

Dear friends of the lyre worldwide,

Please find enclosed the flyer for our celebrations with all the important information you need to register, which you can do now. We are glad that preparations are already well underway in so many places around the world!

In addition to the flyer, we would like to provide some further information in this letter:

Open Stages

If you are a conference participant and would like to make a musical contribution as part of the "Open Stages", please register by sending an email with the subject line "Open Stage" to leier26@goetheanum.ch.

The following information is required: name and correspondence email address, title, composer. (Playing time 10 minutes, longer contributions on request.) We will compile the daily programmes from the registrations. Contributions registered by 31 May will be published in the printed conference programme booklet. Later registrations are possible (depending on room availability), but can only be announced during the conference.

Independent Initiatives

If you are a conference participant and would like to contribute to the "independent initiatives", please send an email with the subject line "independent Initiative" to leier26@goetheanum.ch.

The following information is required: name and correspondence email address, number of players, title, type/content of the initiative, language. Here too, the following applies: anything we receive by 31 May can be included in the printed conference programme.

Later registrations are possible if space is still available, but can only be announced during the conference.

Please remember to label all personal items with your name during the festivities: lyre, case, music stand, tuning key, and tuner.
